A selection of posters published by Akwesasne Notes

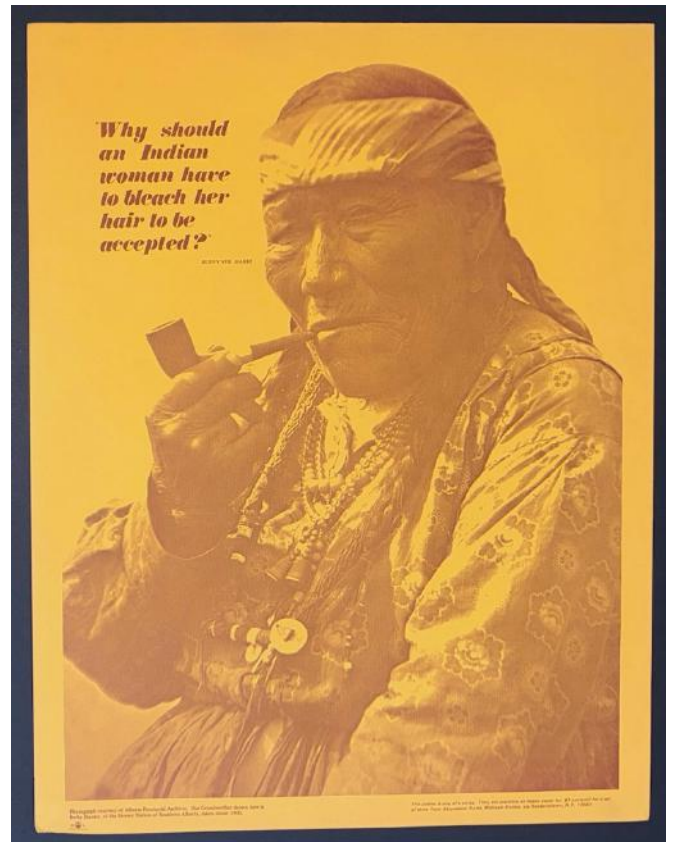

Akwesasne Notes, one of the premier chronicles of Native American activism, was published by members of the Mohawk Nation beginning in 1969. It covered the occupation of Alcatraz, the standoff at Wounded Knee, developments with the American Indian Movement and other groups within the US, and around the rest of the Americas. With the collaboration of Glad Day Press, which printed many posters for activist groups, the newspaper reprinted some of its centerfold designs as posters, and supplemented these with other designs. This is a selection of eighteen different posters produced during the 1970s.

1. "We Must All See Ourselves As Part Of This Earth, Not As An Enemy From The Outside Who Tries To Impose His Will On It. We, Who Know The Meaning Of The Pipe, Also Know That, Being A Living Part Of The Earth, We Cannot Harm Any Part Of Her Without Hurting Ourselves." -Lame Deer [poster]. Mohawk Nation, Roosevelttown, NY: Akwesasne Notes; printed by Glad Day Press, [197-]. 17.5x22.5 inch poster, very good. The quote is paired with an Edward Curtis photo titled "The Rush Gatherer - Arikara." (#334024) $150.00

2. Why should an Indian woman have to bleach her hair to be accepted? -Buffy Sainte Marie [poster]. Roosevelttown, NY: Akwesasne Notes; printed by Glad Day Press, [197-]. 17.5x22.5 inch poster, minor wear at lower left corner, otherwise very good. IWW union bug at bottom. Small text reads, "Photograph courtesy of Alberta Provincial Archives. Our Grandmother shown here is Betty Hunter, of the Stoney Nation of Southern Alberta, taken around 1900." (#334751) $150.00

3. Signs of the Times. Warning Warning. No outside White visitors allowed. Because of your failure to obey the laws of our tribe as well as the laws of your own, this village is hereby closed [poster]. Roosevelttown, NY: Akwesasne Notes, [197-]. 22.5x17.5 inch poster, very good. IWW union bug at bottom. Small text at bottom reads, "We are grateful to Henning Christoph, a German photographer, for this photo of a sign outside Old Oraibi in the Hopi Nation, one of the two oldest continuously inhabited settlements in the North American continent. The village council posted the sign after tourists violated instructions that they were not to photograph sacred Hopi dances." (#334752) $150.00

4. "Always remember - your fathers never sold this land." - Old Joseph [poster]. Mohawk Nation, Rooseveltown, NY: Akwesasne Notes, 1976. 22.5x17.5 inch poster, very good. Emblem at upper left: "The Native American Bicentennial. 1776-1976. 200 years of resistance." (#335830) $200.00.

5. "The White Man never cared for land, or deer, or bear..." - A Wintu Woman [poster]. Mohawk Nation, Rooseveltown, NY: Akwesasne Notes; printed by Glad Day Press, [197-]. 17.5x22.5 inch poster, very good. The quote is paired with a photo of a Wintu woman from "Almost Ancestors," edited by Theodora Kroeber. (#335841) $150.00

"The White Man Never Cared For Land, Or Deer, Or Bear. When We Indians Kill Meat, We Eat It All Up. When We Dig Roots, We Make Little Holes. When We Built Houses, We Make Little Holes. We Shake Down Acorns And Pinenuts. We Don't Chop Down The Trees. We Only Use Dead Wood. But The White People Plow Up The Ground, Pull Down The Trees, Kill Everything. The Tree Says, "Don't. I Am Sore. Don't Hurt Me." But They Chop It Down And Cut It Up. They Blast Rocks And Scatter Them On The Ground. How Can The Spirit Of The Earth Like Them."

— A Wintu Woman

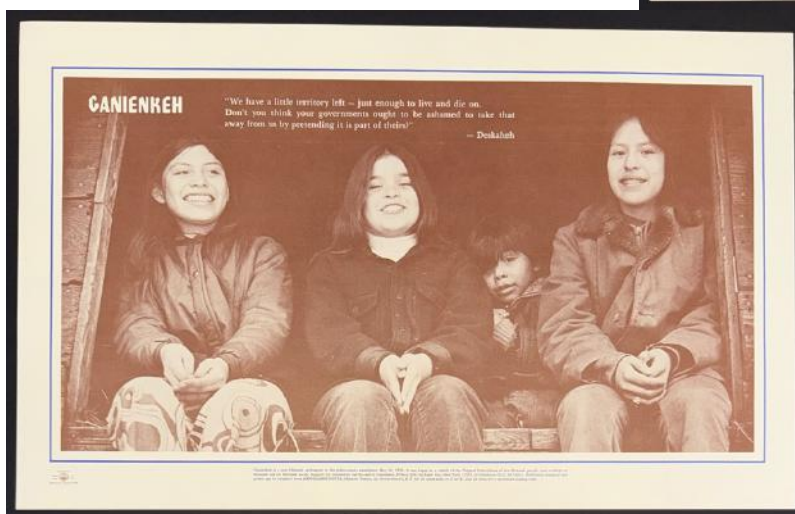

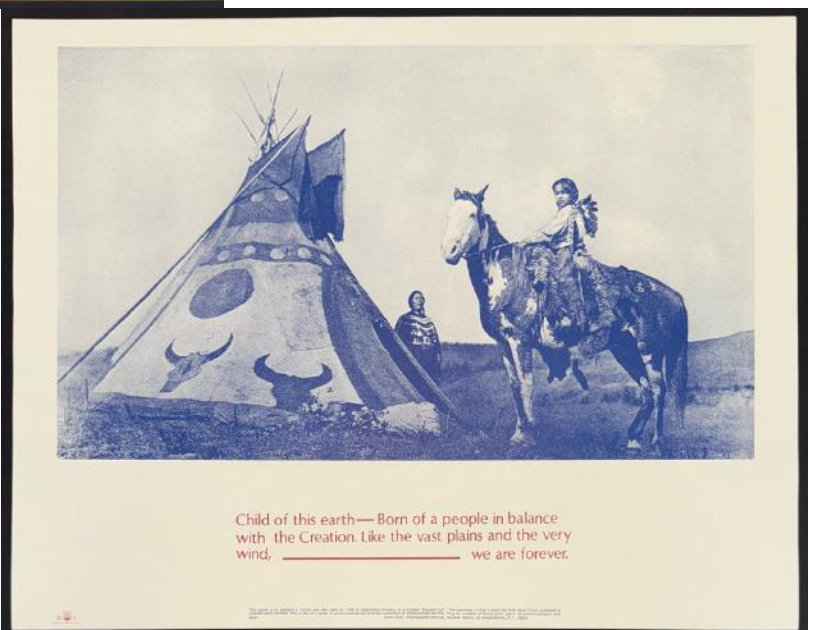

6. There will come a time when we will take refuge in the mountains to escape the burning fires on the plains and there we will plan our return to that charred ground. [poster]. Mohawk Nation, Rooseveltown, NY: Akwesasne Notes; printed by Glad Day Press, [197-]. 22.5x17.5 inch poster, very good. The quote is paired with an Edward Curtis photo published in 1908.
